Skills for Learning aims to teach students how to read academic texts written in English. The course consists of four course books which are suitable for all students: Foundation, Development, Progression, Application, and Reading Projects which are designed for students of specific subjects.

Reading Projects complement the main course books by familiarizing students with the linguistic and reading demands of the particular subject they are studying. First to be published will be Reading Projects: Science.

Foundation
Development
Progression
Application

Reading Projects: Science

Each of the Students' Books is accompanied by a Teachers' Book.